

Thinking About Community

There is so much division in the world today. Wars in the Middle East, disagreements among nations, political divisions in our country. I don't like all this disagreement and fighting. I hope Israel and Iran can settle their differences and keep this cease fire. I hope people in our nation can become more friendly and kind to one another.

As we move towards Independence Day, let's pray for our country and the world. Let's hope God can help us and the world can become more accepting of one another. Let's hope our nation can be less divided and more friendly and welcoming.

I pray for our nation every day. I hope we can become more kind to one another and to immigrants, even illegal ones. Please pray with me for our nation and the world we live in.

--Rev. Dr. Walk Jones
